the "International Journal of Occupational Medicine and Environmental Health" has been published in English since February 1988. The journal was initiated by the Nofer Institute of Occupational Medicine in Lodz and the Polish Association of Occupational Medicine. Publishing the submitted papers, the Editors follow the Uniform Requirements for Manuscripts Submitted to Biomedical Journals stipulated by the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (formerly the Vancouver Group).

Instructions to authors

The "International Journal of Occupational Medicine and Environmental Health" publishes in English, original contributions, review papers, discussion papers, instructive case reports, communications on occupational and environmental health policy, letters to the Editor and book reviews. Special preference is given to papers concerning industrial hygiene, preventive medicine, diagnosis and treatment of occupational diseases, physiology and psychology of work, toxicological research, environmental factors, epidemiology and environmental studies devoted to occupational and environmental problems. Manuscripts must be original and previously unpublished. Only manuscripts written in correct English will be accepted. The authors should submit the editable electronic copies of: 1) the original manuscript in Word file; 2) the file figure in Word file; 3) files with editable tables; 4) files with editable figures (vector-based illustrations, in XLS, XLSX, Adobe Illustrator, PDF, CoreDRAW or EPS files). All pages should be numbered consecutively in the right bottom corner including references, tables and figure legends. The manuscript should be submitted only via the Editorial System (http://www.editorialsystem.com/ijomeh). There is no article processing charge.

Transfer of copyrights

The authors should submit via the Editorial System the Transfer of Copyrights Agreement signed by all authors. The form of the agreement is available in the Editorial System (step "Agreement") after logging in. Submitting the signed agreement means that the authors agree(s) with the reservations included in these instructions. According to the form, please indicate the input of the individual author(s) at the end of the manuscript. On the manuscript, the author(s) must indicate the full name(s) of the corresponding author (the name and surname, name, address, e-mail address, telephone number of the author to whom correspondence is to be sent); the number and title of the project/program/grant under which the study has been carried out and the sources of funding used for the publication, the name and degree of the manager of the program; 7) acknowledgments: one or more statements should specify the contribution of all participants that do not justify authorship, such as persons who have contributed by providing the materials.

Arrangement of the manuscript

Abstract: Each paper must be preceded by a comprehensive structured abstract 1) for original papers and short communications of not more than 300 words (abstract consists of 4 sections: Objectives, Material and Methods, Results, Conclusions); 2) for review papers and case reports of not more than 250 words, without divisions into sections.

Key words: 5-6 words, each one started with a capital letter.

Introduction: It should give a clear, concise account of the background of the problem and the rationale behind the investigation. Only references with a direct bearing on the test submitted should be cited.

Material and Methods: This section should be detailed so as to give the reader a clear idea of what has been done. Drugs, chemicals, etc. should be named fully, together with their sources of supply. A complete list of full names should precede its title, country, department name); 5) corresponding author (the name and surname, institution name, address, e-mail address, telephone number of the author to whom correspondence is to be sent); the number and title of the project/program/grant under which the study has been carried out and the sources of funding used for the publication, the name and degree of the manager of the program; 7) acknowledgments: one or more statements should specify the contribution of all participants that do not justify authorship, such as persons who have contributed by providing the materials.

Ethics: When reporting experiments on humans, indicate whether the procedures followed were in accordance with the ethical standards of a responsible committee on human experimentation (institutional and national) and with the Helsinki Declaration as revised in 2013. Do not use patients’ names, initials, or hospital numbers, especially in illustrative material. When reporting experiments on animals, indicate whether the institution’s or a national research council’s guidelines for, or any national law on the care and use of laboratory animals were followed. Statistics: Describe statistical methods with enough detail to provide a knowledgeable reader with actess to the original data to verify the reported results. When possible, quantify the findings and present them with appropriate indicators of measurement error or uncertainty (such as confidence intervals). Avoid relying solely on statistical hypothesis testing, such as the use of p-values, which fails to convey important quantitative information.

Results: These should be presented in a logical sequence in the text, tables, and figures. Do not repeat in the text all data given in tables or figures; emphasize or summarize only important observations.

Discussion: Emphasize the new and important aspects of the study and a comprehensive interpretation of the results obtained against the background of the existing knowledge. Quotations should be restricted to those with immediate relevance to the author’s findings. A review-like approach should be avoided.

Conclusions: Should refer to the established aims of the paper.

References: These should be numbered consecutively in the order in which they are first mentioned in the text. Identify references in the text, tables, and legends by Arabic numerals in brackets. References cited only in the tables or in legends to figures should be numbered in accordance with the sequence established in the text of the particular table or figure. Use the references below, which are the formatted by the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (ICMJE) (more sample references on http://www.nlm.nih.gov/bsd/uniform_requirements.html). Year, volume (issue): page numbers should be abbreviated according to the Construction of the National Library of Medicine Title Abbreviations (http://www.nlm.nih.gov/pubs/factsheets/constructtitle.html). Additionally, if the book has a DOI number, it should be included in the references.

Standard journal article

Article not in English

If the article is not in English, the title should be translated into English, written in square brackets, and the language of the original version should be given after the page number.

Books and chapter in a book

Conference proceedings

Journal articles in an electronic format

Unpublished material

Pages and figures: Should be typed on separate pages. The titles and numbering (with Arabic numerals) should be different for the tables and figures. The brief, but descriptive figures and the tables should make them comprehensive without reference to the text.

Author’s proof and a copy for the author

Following the composition of the text, the author for correspondence receives the article in a PDF file. The author within the deadline set by the publisher is obliged to make and send to the publisher the author’s proof, which includes only the corrections of the errors in composition. If the proof is not sent to the publisher within the deadline set by the publisher, it shall have the right to issue and distribute the article in the form sent for author’s proofreading. The publisher and the author shall not have the right to make any claims in respect of any uncorrected errors. Following the publication of the journal issue, the publisher sends the links to the article in the pdf format and the e-mail address of the author for correspondence. The address is made available to the co-authors (if any).

Reservations

1. Submitting the signed agreement via the Editorial System means that the author’s declarati-ite: 1) that he/she have fully read the text of the Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial 2.0 Poland license (also known as CC-BY-NC), available at http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/3.0/pl/deed.en, 2) the article, including tables/figures/appointments (except those listed in point 7 of this paragraph), is the result of his/her original creative work, and he/she are entitled to exclusive and unrestricted copyright to the article and that by the date of the Agreement he/she have not take any commitments that would limit or waive his/her right to the article; 3) he/she is not member of an organization of collective management of copyright and he/she/not have not concluded an agreement with an organization of such kind for the management of copyright; 4) they placed in the article on the page full information about the source of funding (including the number and title of the project/research/grant, the name and the title/degree of the project manager) and other financial relationships with any organization or person with a direct financial contribution into the publication of the study, as well as any other financial relationships that the author(s) declare(s); 5) the article has not been previously published in any form or submitted for publication in another publishing house or editorial office; 6) the article does not contain statements inconsistent with the law; 7) all the necessary permits for the citations of other sources (citations beyond the so-called quota-ration law referred to in Article 29 paragraph 1 of the Act of 4 February 1994 on Copyright and Related Rights) and others have been obtained by the author/s and attached to the Agreement (the declaration of the author of the photographs – Appendix No. 1 to the Agreement, the content to use an image – Appendix No. 2, the consent allowing for a reprint – Appendix No. 3, the consent allowing for a translation and its reprint – Appendix No. 4); 8) there are no other circumstances that could expose the publisher to any liability to any third parties arising from the publication or distribution of the article; 9) they accept(s) publisher’s rights to make technical and linguistic editing without consulting with them the author(s), and also to shorten the submitted manuscripts; 10) he/she/they authorize(s) the publisher to make reprints of the article without the author’s proof and to determine the manner of distribution, price, number of editions and the number of carriers in the various editions, the type of binding and graphic design, in which the article will be distributed, and to advertise products of the publisher or third parties.

2. The author’s bear(s) full responsibility for the veracity of these statements. In the event a third party makes a claim against the publisher in connection with the use of article or disposal of the rights to the article, the author/co-authors shall undertake to join the proceedings as soon as he/she/they are informed of this fact by the publisher, as well as to pay immediately, not later than within 14 days of the receipt of a written notice from the publisher, any costs incurred in this respect in the immediate and in particular the cost of damages, remedies, court costs and costs of legal assistance. This obligation includes the obligation of the authors to cover all documented damages, including those resulting from the judicial or extra-judicial settlements or court ruling.

International Journal of Occupational Medicine and Environmental Health

Editorial Office - Nofer Institute of Occupational Medicine

Address: ul. T. Krawca 6, 94-094 Lodz, Poland

phone: +48 63 314 584, fax: +48 63 314 719, e-mail: ijomeh@lomp.lodz.pl

Website - http://ijomeh.eu/